Good Man Defeated.

A. P. Johnson, the defeated Democratic nominee for Sheriff is taking his defeat good-naturedly. It is a shame that there is so many Democrats in Powell that like to vote with Republicans so well. There are Democrats in the county, it seems, that cannot be trusted any more. They seem to recognize some Republicans of the county as dictator, and these Republicans said the Democrats should not have nominated any body against Tom Hall for Sheriff. Then straightway went some Democrats and said the same thing and kept whooping it up until enough Democrats voted with them to elect Hall. We have nothing to say against Mr. Hall, he is making a good Sheriff, but where is there a man in the county that could say Mr. Johnson would not do the same. He is a perfect moral man, a perfect gentleman, gifted with temperance and a scrupulous mind toward every act of duty. There may have been some excuse in former elections for Democrats voting for Republicans, but there certainly was no excuse for so doing this time.

The Thanksgiving Turkey.

As Thanksgiving day this year is the 30th of November and Christmas follows three weeks later, those turkeys which pass safely the first of these festive occasions will have but a short season to rejoice before the next period of great danger to their tribe.

J. R. Hurst, a former merchant of Hardwick's creek has moved to the city where he will engage in the grocery and meat business. He has rented the lower floor of the Warmoth property where he can be found with a fresh stock in a few days.

Kentucky a Good Fruit State.

The Chicago Breeders' Gazette commenting on the Kentucky State Fair, says:

"Those who have raised fruit extensively in Kentucky seem to be very enthusiastic over the business. They assert that this is destined to become a noted fruit state, and certainly the long tables loaded with big perfect highly colored specimens of large and small fruits furnished convincing evidence. Last spring some orchardists used smudge pots on chilly nights; others told of effectively protecting their trees from frost by burning bundles of rye straw, starting fires with dry bundles and then adding damp ones to the piles. One man, examining the apples, told of a tree of his own that had $13 worth of apples out two years ago, $12 worth last year and $26 this year. When one of his listeners asked him if the apple orchard really was profitable he said that its expenses were small and the income large. It cost something to spray and prune, he said, but for every day or dollar he spent at that his neighbors and their children trebled that outlay in searching for worms in their tobacco field.

Now is the time to set out a new orchard or replace dead trees in our orchards with live ones. Write Hillenmeyer's nursery today for catalogue and make out your selection. Every owner of land in Powell county should have an abundance of fruit in great variety. Our soil is adapted to fruit growing. They can't beat us anywhere. Then let us grow most of what we can grow best and the secret of luxury and success is solved. We say again, don't neglect that orchard, make it better, don't let it get worse.

DEMOCRATS WIN

EASY VICTORY

IN KENTUCKY.

Powell Goes Republican but City Democratic.

Kentucky Tuesday returned to the Democratic fold by a majority of 35,000 votes. Every Congressional district in the State except the Eleventh giving Democratic majorities. The Tenth district returned to the right column by a majority of 2,586. The Legislature will be overwhelmingly Democratic, there being but about twenty-six Republican members in both branches of the Legislature of the 138 total members.

Montgomery county, O'Rear's home county goes against him by a majority of 425.

For the first time in years Powell county goes Republican, going for O'Rear by a majority of two votes. Lyle carries the county for Representative by a majority of 66 votes, but Johnson is defeated for Sheriff by Thos. Hall by a majority of 146 votes.

The entire city Democratic ticket was elected by a majority of 32 votes. The city gave Johnson a majority of 54 and Lyle and McCreary a majority of 52.

B. J. Mathews is elected to the Legislature by a majority of about 200.

W. F. Welch, of Estill county is elected to the State Senate by a majority of about 300.

Democrats and Republicans respectively scored in the election battle outside Kentucky. Massachusetts Eugene N. Foss. Democrat was re-elected Governor by a plurality of about 7,000. The remainder of the ticket is claimed by the Republicans. Tammany Hall won in New York county by greatly reduced pluralities, while the Republicans gain control of the lower house of the New York Legislature. Democratic Mayors were elected by Cleveland, Cincinnati and Columbus. Socialists made pronounced gains in Ohio, electing candidates for Mayor in several of the smaller cities. At a late hour the result in Maryland was in doubt, with the Republicans claiming the election of Goldsharough, candidate for Governor. At midnight the returns indicated a general Republican victory in Rhode Island.

Luther Burkank, the greatest of all living pomologists announces that he has evolved a thornless blackberry. Powell county may now hope to soon supplant the present growth of berries to the kind that has no briers.

Allan Osborne and D. D. Berryman, two former residents of near Spout Spring who have been residents of Clark county for the past few years have sold out there and will move to Indiana where they have bought land.

President Taft, Gov. Wilson and Henry Watterson were the principal speakers at the ceremonies incident to the unveiling of the statue of Lincoln in the capitol at Frankfort.

Game Laws.

As the season for hunting game is with us, it is well for hunters to refresh themselves of Kentucky game laws.

From November 15th to January 1st, it is lawful to shoot quail, rabbits may be shot any time during the year except from September 5th to November 14th; it is lawful to shoot squirrels from November 15th to February 1st and from June 15th to September 15th; duck and geese from August 15th to April 1st; doves from August 1st to February 1st; woodcock from June 20th to February 1st; snipe, at any time.

It is unlawful to shoot any Thrush, Meadow Lark, Finch, Martin, Swallow, Woodpecker, Red or Blue Bird, Catbird or other insect-eating bird at any time. Possession of animal or bird within prohibited time is evidence of guilt. The law does not allow for any person to hunt upon the property of another, and permission must be obtained or violators may be prosecuted. A fine of from $5 to $25 may be assessed against any person found hunting or fishing on enclosed grounds without consent of owner.

A Mason county man killed himself because his wife gave birth to twins which were the second pair and he had no means to support them.

Lands Posted.

All persons are hereby notified that no hunting will be allowed on enclosed lands belonging to the undersigned.

A Gift With a Thought in It.

What other Christmas present costs so little and means so much as a subscription to the Youth's Companion—52 weeks for $1.75? It is a gift which benefits not only the one who receives it, but every member of the same household.

With many Christmas presents the sense of novelty wears off by the week's end, but The Youth's Companion is as new and sought after the fifty-second week of the year as the first. It is elastic in its adaptability, too; for it does not matter whether the present is for a boy or a girl, young married people, sedate couples, grandparents—there never was one yet who did not set store by the Youth's Companion. You cannot make a mistake if you give The Companion—and it is only $1.75 a year now. On January 1, 1912 the price will be advanced to $2.00.

The one to whom you give the subscription will receive free The Companion's Calendar for 1912, lithographed in ten colors and gold, and you, too, as giver of the subscription, will receive a copy of the Calendar.

An orchard neglected for one year virtually puts it back three years.

The size of an apple can be influenced to quite a large degree by picking.

Keep the orchard clear of all dead brush, it being a harbor for injurious insects.

The cellar used for storing fruit must be kept cooler than the vegetable cellar.

The ideal time for picking apples is a matter that must be settled to a large degree by the individual.

The coldest weather does not kill the insects. Therefore spraying is the safest method of killing them.

Pears and apples keep better if picked a little green. Some pears rot from the core outward if allowed to ripen on the tree.

The first advantage of fall planting is that it induces the grower to get his nursery stock earlier than if planting in the spring.

Any kind of fruit tree will die when planted in ground that is all the time saturated with water. The tile ditch is a necessity in such places.

Trees set out in the fall do better when the winter is moderate, as the ground is drier and the trees make a greater growth the next season.

If your trees have been affected with leaf blight during the summer, spray them with bordeaux mixture after the crop has been gathered.

Fall pruning is better than no pruning. If you have some hardy varieties of fruit trees that need pruning, there is no danger in doing it in the fall.

The laws of Kentucky provide that every male citizen between the age of 18 and 50 living in the county must work six days in each year on the county road unless roads are worked in that county by taxation. Some overseers have not worked a day on their road and winter right on us. It is any wonder we have bad roads?

The Rev. Mr. R. Hicks' 1912 Almanac.

Before the great drouth of 1901, the Hicks' Almanac gave timely warning. For over two years prior to 1911, the Hicks' Almanac again sounded a warning of drouth danger. And so, for forty years this same friend of all the people has steadfastly refused the offers of speculators and continued to warn the public of the coming dangers of storm and weather. As they should have done, the people have nobly stood by Professor Hicks, their faithful public servant, who has grown old in their service. Send only one dollar to Word and Works Publishing Company, 3401 Franklin Avenue, St. Louis, Missouri, and get his Magazine and Almanac both for one year. The Almanac alone, a fine book of 150 pages, is only 35¢ by mail. Let every body respond and receive the warnings of our National Seer for the coming year.

A roadside in Jamaica. Shows the hut of a native. These banana trees grow wild as well as oranges. There are few places in the world where one can live with less labor than in parts of Jamaica. Even here the roads are good—far better than the Central West of the United States.

FEEDING COW WHOLE GRAINS

Inadvisability of Ration Has Been Demonstrated by Experiment Stations and Owners.

It is seldom advisable to feed whole grain to dairy cows. This has been demonstrated time and time again, both by experiment stations and individual dairy men and farmers. The animals cannot make as good use of whole grain as of grain that has been ground. The Michigan station has furnished some exact data on the subject that are worth attention. The work was very carefully done and the results reported as follows: When whole corn was fed to cows 22.75 per cent passed through them unmasticated; when fed to heifers, 10.77 per cent, and when fed to calves, 6.28 per cent. When whole oats was fed to cows, 12.06 per cent passed through them unmasticated; when fed to heifers, 5.48 per cent, and when fed to calves, 2.98 per cent. Whole corn and oats not masticated when fed to cows, 26.46 per cent; to heifers, 17.50 per cent, and calves 5.78 per cent. Chemical analysis showed practically the same composition of grain before feeding. Therefore it is safe to conclude that the animal derives no benefit from grain which passes through the digestive tract unmasticated. The results show two things: First, that feeding whole grain to cows and heifers is a very wasteful practice; second, that the younger animals are more capable of masticating their food than older ones.

We are pleased with the election but ashamed of Powell.

FARM AND GARDEN

HANDY RACK FOR SEED CORN

Pigeon Hole Is Provided for Every Ear and is Easy to Make—Mice Are Kept Off.

A handy type of rack for storing seed corn, which is very simple in construction, is shown in the illustration, says the Farm and Home. It may be made any size, but one that is seven feet high and four feet wide is very convenient. The frame is made of inch boards 12 inches wide, and at intervals of three inches two laths are placed crosswise and wires are strung Handy Corn Rack.

2½ inches apart, running from top to bottom. This makes an ideal pig pen hole for each ear. Two cross wires are run through the center around the lath, as shown, to prevent them from sagging. Each division can be numbered so that individual tests can be made of every ear.

LARGE WHEELS ON TRACTOR

Largest of Their Kind Manufactured by English Firm for Experimental Purposes.

The largest wheels ever used on an agricultural traction engine were built by a firm in Leeds, England, for experimental purposes, says the Popular Mechanics. The giant wheels are 12 feet in diameter, with a bearing surface 18 inches wide. The wheels were designed for use on soft soil.

Cottonseed Meal.
If cottonseed meal costs delivered $35 a ton, each pound of digestible protein will cost less than 4½ cents if corn is worth $25 a ton, each pound of protein will cost about 16 cents a pound. In other words, a pound of protein in corn will cost nearly four times as much as a pound of protein in cottonseed meal. This clearly shows that the dairy farmer will lose money if he purchases corn to feed his cows, providing, of course, that cottonseed meal is available. But if cottonseed meal is not available other feeding stuffs can be had. The buyer of grain feeds should consider his purchase in this light.

Marketing Vegetables.
The successful marketing of vegetables beyond doubt, is the most serious question of all for commercial growers. In many instances it is apparently impossible to make shipments to the city and realize a fair profit. This condition is due to high freight or express charges, unscrupulous dealers and too many middlemen. There is too much difference between the price received by the producer and that paid by the consumer, and this is the primary cause of the high cost of living in the large cities.

Winter Feed for Geese.
I never feed any special green feed except cabbage to my breeding geese during the winter. But I raise field corn and feed that, allowing the geese the range except when there is snow on the ground, says a writer in an exchange. I have tried various foods, but never found any advantage over corn. The pasture is, of course, best of all for geese, since the birds will care for themselves.

NOTES FROM MEADOWBROOK FARM

By William Pitt

Inbreeding too much will cause pigeons to "go light."

Persistency is one of the valuable qualities of a good dairy cow.

Do not allow the pullets to roost in the coops where they were raised.

The horse that shatters when eating should have his teeth examined.

The experienced poultryman will breed only from his best winter layers.

Onions, unlike potatoes and other root crops, will not keep in a moist cellar.

Tile drainage by making the soil firm, enables earlier cultivation in the spring.

Low ground drained can be cultivated earlier than high ground not drained.

Prune the currants and gooseberries as soon as the leaves fall, or early next spring.

At this season of the year with the coming of the fall rains, a dry shelter should be provided for the sheep.

"Almost every wrong act of the horse is caused by fear, excitement or mismanagement," said a great horseman.

Begin a systematic culling of the flock this month, and get rid of all unpromising birds before cold weather sets in.

A dairy barn can be kept practically free from unpleasant odors, but we never saw more than half a dozen such barns.

It is just as important that every horse should have his own collar all the time as that a man should wear his own shoes.

Save the small potatoes and imperfect heads of cabbage and other waste vegetables. They will all be relished by the hens in the winter.

Work horses, that have been pushed in the fields all summer should now have the advantage of every hour possible in the fall pastures.

Where a number of horses are kept in the same barn the sides of the stall should be low enough to allow them to see each other as all horses love company.

Let the same person milk the same cows every day when possible, because a strange milker always makes the animal nervous and affects the milk flow.

The first test to be given a new workman on the farm is to send him out with team. If he handles them kindly and skillfully he is pretty sure to be a good all-round man.

If you find a workman kicking or beating a horse back him up into a corner and give him a sound lecture. Then watch him carefully and if he repeats the act send him adrift.

When a man sends his horse pell-mell down hill with a loose rein he not only jars the shoulders, sprains the knees, weakens the nerves, but runs the risk of breaking his horse's knees.

Put new sand on the floor of the house immediately, otherwise it will not dry out thoroughly before cold weather comes but will remain damp and make the house uncomfortable throughout the winter.

There is no economy in feeding mushy grain of any kind to the chickens, even if it can be had for a quarter of the price of good grain. The fowls will eat it, if other food is withheld, but it is not good for them.

In many of the big sheep states the farmers find it profitable to engage the professional shearers with a machine. They go about from farm to farm shearing the flocks singly or have several flocks brought to a central point.

Sheep require different feeding and handling from any other animal on the farm. Even though you are an experienced sheep raiser, don't get too ambitious and try to manage a larger flock than you can keep up to the standard of excellence.

The average depreciation of farm machinery is reckoned at 10 per cent. per year. A machine shed will cut this cost at least one-third, or extend the life of the average machine to fifteen years, where it is now thrown onto the scrap pile in ten years.

Beware of Agents.

These slick-tongued agents canvass all sections of the country, the community from which this article is addressed being no exception. Just recently here, a stove agent landed five sales in one day, making a profit, no doubt, of $30 to $40 on each sale. —Progressive Farmer.

Lower Taxes
would be a most desirable change, but since that seems to be out of the question just now, the best thing to do is to save tax money by making your purchases at Williams' Two Stores.

Very Serious

It is a very serious matter to ask for one medicine and have the wrong one given you. For this reason we urge you in buying to be careful to get the genuine.

THE DEDFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT Liver Medicine

The reputation of this old, reliable medicine, for conception, indigestion and liver trouble, is firmly established. It does not imitate other medicines. It is better than others, or it would not be the favorite liver powder, with a larger sale than all others combined.

Are You Nervous?

What makes you nervous? It is the weakness of your womanly constitution, which cannot stand the strain of the hard work you do. As a result, you break down, and ruin your entire nervous system. Don't keep this up! Take Cardui, the woman's tonic. Cardui is made from purely vegetable ingredients. It acts gently on the womanly organs, and helps them to do their proper work. It relieves pain and restores health, in a natural manner, by going to the source of the trouble and building up the bodily strength.

TAKE CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

Mrs. Grace Fortner, of Man, W. Va., took Cardui. This is what she says about it: "I was so weak and nervous, I could not bear to have anyone near me. I had fainting spells, and I lost flesh every day. The first dose of Cardui helped me. Now, I am entirely cured of the fainting spells, and I cannot say enough for Cardui, for I know it saved my life." It is the best tonic for women.

Do you suffer from any of the pains peculiar to women? Take Cardui. It will help you. Ask your druggist.
